Volume 7, Issue 1

January 2007

PROPER ETHICAL BEHAVIOR IS REQUIRED TO PROTECT MISSOURI CITIZENS

John Bognar, Chairman

It is an honor to serve the citizens of Missouri in my new role as Chairman of the Missouri Board of Geologist Registration. I take the responsibility seriously, to protect the health, safety, and welfare of Missouri Citizens as related to the practice of geology in our state. Requiring those practicing geology to possess a license is a proper role of state government toward the goal of public protection and the authors of the Missouri Geologist Registration Act persuaded the 87th General Assembly and the late Governor Mel Carnahan that geologist registration is necessary to protect the citizens. As such, the Act set forth the minimum education and experience requirements to obtain the license. The rules promulgated to administer the Act include a code of professional conduct.

To be protective of the public, as practitioners, we must remember that geology is a profession as well as a science. Using the entrusted title of Registered Geologist we must recognize our role as part of a reputable scientific discipline. The professional practice of geology is not only scientific but it engages economics, business practices, functions of government, policy making, all within the important climate of competition. Competition is generally good for the consumer, but when for example competition causes the lowering of the price of professional services by cutting corners, it may create a weakened scientific product by which no one is served well. Perhaps in this case of lowering the price, there exists an ethical issue.

Even though proper ethical practice in the geologic profession has always been of paramount importance, generally the awareness of geological ethics has only grown considerably in the last several years. Some ethics writers have observed this interest is late in contrast to many other professions. This increased interest may be inspired by the escalating public awareness of professional ethics and the fact that now, many professional geologists consider ethical decisions as challenging as the technical problems.

Because ethics is a difficult concept to understand and many of us have no formal training in the subject, the experienced among us are hopefully encouraged to assist the inexperienced in our practice. Be mindful of your competition when eyeing financial success but more mindful of your practice ethics. In the long run, the proper ethical practice will prevail and the public will be well served. It never hurts to refresh your knowledge of what is required of the RG in the way of professional conduct. That can be as easy as re-reading the practice act and rules, 20 CSR 2145-4.010 to 20 CSR 2145-4.040.

DIVISION DIRECTOR'S NOTE

by: David Broeker, Division Director

My sincere appreciation to Governor Blunt for having appointed me the Director of the Division of Professional Registration beginning July 2. It is certainly a pleasure to serve in this position.

For the last 14+ years I owned and operated my own business in Jefferson City. Prior to that, I spent 17 ½ years in state government; in the Governor's Office, State Auditor's Office, and the Department of Agriculture.

As you probably know, the Governor issued Executive Order 06-04 on February 1, 2006, that created the Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions, and Professional Registration. By a Type III transfer our division became a part of this new department on August 28. A type III transfer is the transfer of a department, division, agency, board, commission, unit, or program to the new department with only such supervision by the head of the department for budgeting and reporting. The Division of Professional Registration was previously a division within the Department of Economic Development.

I am most grateful to the Division's and Boards' staff for the support, advice, and counsel they have given me. This is truly a great group of people.

I look forward to working with all my associates in Professional Registration and continuing the excellent service the entire division has given the approximately 400,000 Missourians who are licensed and regulated and who represent 240 different trades and professions.

Please feel free to contact me if I can be of assistance to you. I look forward to working with you in the years to come.

SEARCHING FOR PAST AGI MINORITY PARTICIPATION PROGRAM SCHOLARS

The American Geological Institute is searching for past scholarship recipients from the AGI Minority Participation Program (MPP) to complete a short survey. The AGI MPP program is the longest running minority program in the geosciences, dating back to 1972. More than 950 MPP scholars have received millions of dollars in scholarships over the past 34 years. Many of our past scholars are currently working as leaders in the geoscience community, and many have gone on to exciting careers in other fields.

We would like to evaluate the AGI MPP Program, in order to improve it for current and future students. The survey will only take 10 minutes, and will be used to track the successes of the program over the past 34 years! If you were an MPP scholar, please take the time to participate!

Please forward this Web address to your membership, newsletters, and listserves to help us find everyone! AGI will publicize the results of this survey once it is completed. Thanks for your help!
