MISSOURI
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

This is an official publication of the Division of Professional Registration. Submit articles to: SCOP, P.O. Box 1335, Jefferson City, MO 65102.

By this time, all licensed psychologists in Missouri should be aware that 40 hours of Continuing Education credits are required every two years for licensure renewal. The first Continuing Education reporting period for Missouri psychologists began December 1, 1999 and will end November 30, 2001. SCOP members and staff have received a number of inquiries regarding CE rules and requirements. I will attempt to clarify some issues and concerns related to this process that is new to all of us.

*Vetta Sanders-Thompson, Ph.D.
Chair*

First, in order to renew your license on or before February 1, 2002, you will be required to attest on the license renewal application form that your CE credits required by November 30, 2001 have been completed. You should not send any documentation to the Committee unless requested to do so. Individuals will be selected for audit and only those individuals will be required to submit documentation of CE credits. It is important to remember that you are responsible for submitting documentation of your CE credits within 30 days of a request. Records documenting CE credits are to be retained for five (5) years after submission of your attestation. It is our belief that maintaining the records as you acquire CE credits will prove more efficient than attempting to gather documents at the time of a Committee request.

Continuing Education credits are divided into two categories. Category A credit suggests more formal educational activity. Fifteen (15) Category A credits are required each reporting period. Category B involves self study and less formal educational activity. A maximum of twenty-five (25) CE credits may be completed in Category B.

Any APA accredited seminar, workshop, presentation, or other educational activity will be counted as Category A credit, regardless of mode of delivery. If you present an APA accredited course, workshop, seminar, etc., you may receive Category A CE credit. Continuing Education approved by other accredited or identified sponsors (see 4 CSR 235-7.005 (1) for a partial listing) will meet Category A requirements as long as the content is psychology related. The American Medical Association, American Nursing Association, American Psychological Society, Missouri Psychological Association, etc. are examples of acceptable organizations. The number of credits assigned by the accredited or identified sponsor will be accepted.

Postgraduate courses taken at an accredited school, college, university or other institution of higher learning will receive Category A credit if the course is relevant to the practice of psychology (see 4 CSR 235-7.005(7) for guidelines on recognized educational institutions). Each credit hour awarded for a semester course will be worth 15 CE credits, while each credit hour awarded for a course offered on a quarter basis will be worth 10 CE credits. For example, an individual completing a one credit hour course during a semester will fulfill the Category A requirement for a reporting cycle, while an individual completing a one credit hour course during a quarter will need five (5) additional Category A credits.

Professional presentations and writings can be used to fulfill Category A requirements. Please review 4 CSR 235-7.030 (1) (A) (3) for credits to be awarded for various activities. You have probably noticed that these activities may also be used to meet Category B CE requirements. Psychologists have asked if there are differences in the articles, presentations, etc. which are accepted as Category A or B activities. The answer is no. The Committee will not attempt to evaluate the journals or publishers of articles, chapters or books. It is up to each psychologist to determine the placement of his/her presentation and publication activities as they relate to CE credit. Publications and presentations are only accepted in the year of actual publication and the year must fall within the two year reporting cycle.

There have been questions concerning the difference between activities that may be designated as Category B self study (4 CSR 235-7.030 (1) (B) (1)) and those designated individual study (4 CSR 235-7.030 (1) (B) (2) (E)). There are distinctions that can be made and in other circumstances these might be relevant. However, for the purpose of reporting CE credits to the State Committee, there is no difference between self study and individual study. Self study credits may not exceed 10 within a two year reporting period, while individual study is limited to 4 credits. Again, each psychologist is to determine the placement of his/her self/individual study activities as they relate to CE credit.

The Committee has been asked whether specific activities will count toward CE. I discussed in detail the activities that will count as Category A credit. I will describe some common activities that may be counted toward Category B and hope that this will provide some guidance. Teaching a course can be counted as Category B credit (4 CSR 235-7.030 (1) (B) (2) (E)), however no course may be counted more than once within the two year reporting period. Reading articles on your own or as a part of a journal club, attendance at Grand Rounds, departmental colloquia or lectures, inservice training, etc. may be counted toward Category B self/individual study. In addition, audio tapes and/or videotapes may be included as a part of self/individual study. All activities listed must be relevant to the practice of psychology. Supervision, individual or group, and case conferences and presentations do not count toward CE.

Finally, those licensed after the beginning of a two year reporting cycle will complete CE on a prorated basis. Newly licensed psychologists receive a five (5) credit reduction for every three (3) months of the reporting cycle elapsed prior to licensure. Forty percent (40%) of the required credits must be Category A.

I hope that I have been able to clarify issues related to CE requirements and reporting. As always, psychologists should feel free to call, write, or e-mail SCOP staff with questions or concerns. Every effort will be made to address your questions as quickly as possible.

Vetta Sanders Thompson, Ph.D.
Chair

Message from Executive Director to Psychological Residents and Provisionally Licensed Psychologists

Psychological Residents and Provisionally Licensed Psychologists completing their post doctoral experience in Missouri need to be aware that the supervisor must be currently licensed in Missouri. If the supervisor is not licensed in Missouri or if the license becomes delinquent at any time during the post doctoral experience period none of the supervised experience hours earned during that time will be counted toward meeting the licensure requirements in Missouri.

The State Committee of Psychologists strongly recommends that psychological residents and provisionally licensed psychologists follow these guidelines:

(1) know the expiration date of the supervisor's license and remind him/her to renew before the expiration date and

(2) check with the supervisor or the State Committee of Psychologists' office prior to the expiration date to make certain renewal fees were paid.

It is the responsibility of the supervisor to pay the renewal fee. Both of these precautions will help to ensure that all of the hours of supervised experience will be accepted toward meeting the licensure requirements in Missouri. If you have questions regarding the above information please do not hesitate to contact our office.

Pamela Groose
Executive Director

Ethics Workshops

The ethics workshops sponsored by the State Committee of Psychologists were a great success. 556 psychologists attended the workshops in Columbia, Kansas City and St. Louis. The Missouri State Committee of Psychologists members and staff thank Randolph P. Reaves, J.D. for his time and effort in conducting these workshops in Missouri for Missouri licensed psychologists.

The responses from the licensees were very positive and the state committee hopes to continue to offer similar workshops during the next year. The members welcome your comments and suggestions for topics and speakers.

Please submit your comments and/or suggestions to Pamela Groose, Executive Director, State Committee of Psychologists, P.O. Box 1335, Jefferson City, MO 65102 or by fax to 573/526-3489.

Possible CE offerings

In an attempt to begin to plan for future continuing education offerings it would be very helpful for all interested licensees to complete the following and mail or fax to our office. You may mark more than one.

Biennial Renewal

Beginning with the next license renewal period which begins February 1, 2002, Psychologists in Missouri will renew for two (2) years rather than one (1) year as in the past. The renewal fee will be $300.00 and the HSP renewal fee will be an additional $100.00. The next license you will receive will be for February 1, 2002 through January 31, 2004.

The two (2) year renewal will make it more important to keep our office notified of your current mailing address.

Please contact our office if you have any questions regarding the two (2) year renewal.

Computerized EPPP

The April, 2001 administration of the Examination for Professional Practice in Psychology (EPPP) was the last paper/pencil administration of the EPPP in Missouri. For many states the October, 2000 EPPP was the last paper/pencil administration but the rules and regulations in Missouri allowing the delivery of the exam via computer rather than paper/pencil were not in effect. Those rules will become effective August 30, 2001.

Candidates will no longer be required to drive to Jefferson City to take the examination given only two (2) times per year, April and October, but instead will be able to sit for the examination at any of the Prometric Testing Centers on a day and time of the candidate's choice. Locations of the Prometric Testing Centers in Missouri are:

Cape Girardeau -	2136 William Street, Suite 115
Jefferson City -	813 West Stadium Blvd, Suite B
Lee's Summit -	1201 NE Rice Road, Deer Brook Plaza
St. Joseph -	1329 Village Drive
St. Louis -	15324 Manchester Road
	364 Brookes Drive, Trade Ctr Office Park
Springfield -	3259 East Sunshine Street, Suite D

There will be some changes but for the most part the application process will not change. The actual EPPP application will be different, a scannable form, but again the application process will change very little.

Fees: Yes, along with the computer testing advantages comes the increase in costs related to the delivery of the test via the computer. The ASPPB (Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards) fee for the EPPP examination will increase from $350.00 to $450.00 and there will now be an additional $65.00 test administration fee that will be paid directly to the Prometric Testing Center at the time of the actual scheduling of the appointment to test.

For a detailed explanation of the computerized examination process please contact our office, visit the State Committee of Psychologists' website or the ASPPB website.

ASPPB Certificate of Professional Qualification in Psychology (CPQ)

* Reprinted from the ASPPB website at www.asppb.org

- Definition of a Member Jurisdiction

A "member jurisdiction" that is a member of the Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB), is the statutorily constituted body which is legally responsible for the certification of licensing of psychologists in its respective jurisdiction (state, province, territory, or District of Columbia). Currently, ASPPB member boards include 52 U.S. Jurisdictions, which includes all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, and 9 Canadian provinces, less Prince Edward Island.

ASPPB's CPQ program is designed to facilitate mobility for licensed doctoral psychologists. ASPPB issues a Certificate of Professional Qualification in Psychology (CPQ) to psychologists licensed in the U.S. and Canada who meet standards of educational preparation, supervised experience, and examination performance, and who have practiced a minimum of five years and have no history of disciplinary action. ASPPB then encourages licensing boards to accept the CPQ as evidence of eligibility for licensure. Through the CPQ program, ASPPB works to improve the process for licensing psychologists already licensed in one jurisdiction and ease the burdens on psychology licensing boards faced with regulating an increasingly mobile profession. Check the links at left for details on the three options for qualifying.

A key feature of the CPQ program is its credentials bank, which provides a way for psychologists to store evidence of their professional education, experience, prior licensure, and exam performance, regardless of whether they are granted a CPQ. Once archived, this information can be accessed and submitted to any psychology licensing board, thereby reducing potential hassles associated with documenting compliance with licensure criteria, particularly long after one's training and initial licensure. It is important to note that the CPQ does not constitute a license to practice. It is a mechanism to facilitate the granting of a license to practice in a second or subsequent jurisdiction. Once a psychology board agrees to recognize the CPQ, it has agreed to accept CPQ holders' educational preparation, supervised experience, and examination performance for licensure. A jurisdiction may require a CPQ holder to pass local requirements such as a jurisprudence exam (e.g. local mental health law), training on abuse reporting, or a personal interview. Because a few jurisdictions limit licensure to psychologists trained as health service providers in psychology, a non-health service provider psychologist could obtain the CPQ yet not be eligible for licensure in some jurisdictions. ASPPB is working with all U.S. and Canadian psychology boards to encourage widespread adoption. As more jurisdictions move to accept the CPQ, its value in facilitating mobility will increase. And even if one relocates in a jurisdiction that does not accept the CPQ, a credentials record with ASPPB will facilitate mobility by maintaining an easily accessible record of qualifications. To request application materials, send e-mail containing your name and postal address to cpq@asppb.org.

The following is a list of states and provinces who currently accept CPQ.

Alberta	Mississippi	Pennsylvania
California	Nevada	Rhode Island
District of Columbia	Oklahoma	Vermont
Kentucky	Ohio	Virginia
Louisiana	Ontario	Wisconsin

Practice Test for the Psychology Licensing Exam Available on Computer

 Reprinted from the ASPPB website at www.asppb.org*

ASPPB and PES now offer a computer-delivered practice test for the Examination for Professional Practice in Psychology (EPPP), the written licensing exam required by 60 psychology licensing boards in the U.S. and Canada. The 100-item computer-administered exam will offer individuals a chance to practice answering questions and receive immediate feedback on their performance.

To take the practice exam, an individual must be preparing for psychology licensure. The individual must be:

- A student in a doctoral psychology program; or
- A student in a master's psychology program in a state or province that grants a license, certification or registration for master's-trained individuals; or
- A psychologist with a degree that qualifies him or her to take the licensing examination (the EPPP).

To show eligibility, an individual must have his or her application signed by a director of training for his/her education program, his/her internship director, or his/her postdoctoral year supervisor. An individual who has been out of school for several years could have a current supervisor authenticate his or her application.

The exam is available Monday through Friday at more than 300 Sylvan Prometric Testing Centers in the U.S. and Canada. The practice exam costs $100 U.S. Two different 100-item practice exams are available. An individual may apply for a single examination or both examinations. To apply, candidates may contact PES at 800/207-1962 or download the form in PDF format by going to the ASPPB web page at www.asppb.org/pracexam.html. Complete the form and forward it with your payment to PES at the address provided. Information on Prometric locations may be found on the web at <http://www.prometric.com>, or by calling 800/699-4975.

The examination fee is $50.00 for a single examination and $80.00 for both, payable to Professional Examination Service. Candidates will also be charged a test center fee of $50.00 per examination, collected by Prometric. Thus the fees for a single examination totals $100.00 and for both examinations total $180.00.

Practice exam takers will receive a reduced price of $50 U.S. —a 30% savings —on Items from Previous Examinations, which contains 250 questions used in the past on the written licensing exam, along with an answer key and bibliography. To order this publication, contact ASPPB at 334/832-4580, or online at www.asppb.org/order.htm.

IMPORTANT: The practice examination offered is for study purposes only. No representation is made that performance on the practice exam is a valid indicator of performance on any future licensing exam nor a guarantee of passage of such a licensing exam. An individual's score on the practice exam will not be accepted in lieu of the passage of an actual form of the EPPP. By taking this practice exam, each individual acknowledges that he or she understands these limitations on the use of the exam.

House Bill 1536, Citation Processing and Forms

House Bill 1536 signed into law by Governor Mel Carnahan on June 18, 1998, allows for the identification and reporting of individuals who may possess a medical condition that potentially impairs their ability to operate a motor vehicle.

- Form DOR-4319 - Driver Condition Report
- Form DOR-1528 - Physician’s Statement (for use by medical professionals only)

The above have been developed by the Department of Revenue in consultation with members of the Medical Vision Advisory Board and are used when reporting to the Director of Revenue any driver who may have a medical condition adversely affecting his/her driving ability.

When reporting a potentially unsafe driver, please be sure to fully complete the appropriate form, including information regarding the driver based on your personal observation, physical evidence, or any investigation conducted. The report shall be in writing and must contain the name, address, and telephone number of the individual submitting the report. It is important to note that any such report forwarded to the Director of Revenue shall remain confidential except upon order of a court.

There is also a brochure that provides responses to many of the questions asked of the Department of Revenue since this bill was implemented. To obtain a supply or to request a brochure on diskette, please contact the Drivers License Bureau at P.O. Box 200, Jefferson City, MO 65105-0200.

If you have any questions regarding this legislation, please contact Linda Kemp at 573/751-3103, or Raymond Hune, Director.
